

Dear Vincent Medina,

As the CEO of Las Vegas HEALS, I was excited to learn about ThrivePoint High School and its goal to expand in Las Vegas. Having been born and raised in Las Vegas, the need for successful school programs that help get students to where they need to be is always appealing. ThrivePoint has demonstrated a history of doing this in other communities. I am excited that they are considering coming to Las Vegas.

Please consider this letter an expression of my support for ThrivePoint High School, the new free public charter school that will begin in the Fall of 2024 school year. This school's innovative approach to education, with its focus on student success coaches and workforce preparation programs, is truly exciting.

ThrivePoint High School is providing students with the tools and support they need to succeed academically and professionally. This focus on student success is exactly what our community needs, and I fully support the establishment of ThrivePoint High School.
