To Whom it May Concern,

It is my pleasure to provide this letter of support for ThrivePoint High School, which is slated to open during the '24/'25 academic year.

I am impressed with ThrivePoint's mission and how it is aligned to Nevada's workforce and economic development priorities by assisting students by providing career readiness training, workforce partnerships, job training and youth apprenticeships. Schools like this may better engage students that don't find the traditional school setting engaging or have difficulty with it for other reasons. It will also allow students to form realistic and reachable goals for their careers, their education, and their lives.

Please accept this letter as my show of support for ThrivePoint High School.

Sincerely,
